ALLIES MEET THE GERMANS

In Greatest Financial Conference in World History.

UNITED STATES IS NOT REPRESENTED

German Indemnity Placed at $56,500,000,000.

An Additional Tax of Twelve Per Cent. on German Exports Is Also Imposed—France Is Moving Troops, It's Said.

London, March 1.—Germany made her counter-indemnity proposals to the allies, today and they were held unsatisfactory.

Dr. Walter Simons, speaking for the German government at the opening session of the indemnity conference, offered the allies 30,000,000,000 gold marks—$7,500,000,000—to be paid within the next thirty years. But at the same time, Dr. Simons commanded that Germany already has paid the allies 20,000,000,000 gold marks in reparations, making the total amount offered by Germany 50,000,000,000 gold marks—$12,500,000,000.

The first session of the conference was suddenly brought to a close by Premier Lloyd George, spokesman for the allies, who bluntly told the Germans that their counter-proposals were not satisfactory and that there was no use continuing the meeting if the German delegates were going to continue upon their present lines. The Germans were thrown into consternation and immediately got in touch with Berlin, seeking fresh orders.

The allied statesmen met at Premier Lloyd George's official residence, late in the afternoon and drew up a formal answer to be handed to the Germans at St. James palace, tomorrow.

In the brief session of the indemnity conference at Lancaster house, today, the Germans were flatly informed that no quibbling would be allowed and that they must accept the allied decision. It was generally held that the position of France, which is demanding direct and forceful military action against Germany to compel payment, was strengthened by the outcome of the first meeting of the allied and German statesmen.

First Session.

London, March 1.—The first session of the great indemnity conference, today, ended abruptly. The German proposals that were advanced in answer to the allies' indemnity decision evidently proved unsatisfactory.

After Dr. Walter Simons, German foreign minister, had spoken and read for nearly two hours from a long typewritten statement, Premier Lloyd George broke into the German delegate's speech, exclaiming: "You are doing no more than you did in previous statements. If you are going to continue thus, it is useless going any further."

The conference opened at 11:40, in Lancaster house, and ended at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. After the initial session the allied statesmen decided to meet at 4 o'clock, at Premier Lloyd George's official residence, No. 10 Downing street, to consider their course of action.

The German delegates repaired to the Savoy hotel, where they spent the afternoon conferring among themselves.

The details of the German counter-proposals were not made public.

The German case, as outlined by Dr. Simons, was later described as merely a reiteration of the generalities contained in his recent speeches on the subject of indemnity. The course adopted by the Germans was said to have strengthened the French policy of "direct action" against Germany, to compel payment.

Premier Lloyd George, in discussing the German envoys, said he would notify them, later, of the results of the allied deliberations at Downing street.

The following communique was issued at 2:15 o'clock:

Dr. Simons proposed calling German experts. Premier Lloyd George doubted the usefulness of such a course and declaerd that the Germans had completely misunderstood [illegible] allies have agreed upon proposals which can not be examined [illegible] said Premier Lloyd George following the meeting of the statesmen at Downing street, this afternoon.

SIMON LAKE, THE NOTED INVENTOR, TO RAISE TREASURE WITH SALVAGE SUBMARINE

Simon Lake, inventor of the submarine, has perfected a device known as the salvage submarine, which, he says, will put the finishing touches to his dream of forty years. Mr. Lake's peace submarine will be used to recover some of the untold treasures of the deep seas. Plans to salvage wrecks all over the world, begining with the vast tonnage of sunken coal barges on the Atlantic coast, are being made. Here are some of the things the new "salvage submarine" can do, according to Mr. Lake: Salvage sunken coal at the rate of 500 tons an hours, at a cost of fifty cents a ton; bring up precious cargoes of treasure ships sunk three centuries ago; investigate the diamond and gold deposits off the shores of South Africa; pump bouyant material into the hulls of sunken ships and thus raise them to surface; permit a minute study of the ocean floor from a chamber which can be opened to the sea, the air pressure equalling the water pressure. The device is a sort of a submarine workshop conected with the surface ship by a tube adjustable by means of universal joints. In the workshop are the tools of the salvage trade, also the mysterious compressed air chamber in which workmen may breathe freely and keep dry while directing the work of the huge pump which sucks up the coal and treasures, and derricks which handle other sunken cargo. The salvage submarine can be suspended to any depth of water.

EXPENDITURES OF TWO PARTIES

The Republicans and Democrats Spend $10,250,000.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN COST

Report Submitted by a Senate Committee.

Figures Cover Expenditures by All Candidates—Figures Are Gathered in Course of a Probe at Washington.

Washington, March 1.—The two great political parties—Republican and Democratic—spent in the presidential campaign of 1920, "a sum in excess of $10,250,000," it was stated in a report submitted to the senate today, by Senator William S. Kenyon, Republican, of Iowa, chairman of the senate committee which investigated last year's campaign receipts and expenditures.

The amount was specified as $10,325,599.92 and was divided as follows: Republicans, $8,100,739.21; Democrats, $2,237,770.71.

"These figures do not by any means represent the entire amount of money expended in the campaign," it was stated in Senator Kenyon's report. "The funds collected, of course, were not used exclusively in the presidential campaign. They were used likewise in the selection of senators and congressmen and state officials."

The disbursements of the Republican national committee from the time of the Chicago convention until the close of the campaign, were given as $5,319,729.32; those of the Democratic national committee, $1,318,274.02.

The Republican congressional committee was credited with an expenditure of $375,969.05; the Democratic congressional committee, $24,428.85; the Republican senatorial committee, $326,986.20; the Democratic senatorial committee, $6,675.

It was stated there was also a loan of $396,233.50 to the Republican congressional committee, a major portion of which was paid back; and another loan of $100,000 to the Republican senatorial committee, which was repaid in full.

The fifteen men who in the pre-convention campaign were the principal aspirants for either the Republican or Democratic nomination for president had a total of $2,950,033 expended in their interests, it was reported by Senator Kenyon.

INDIGNATION AMONG GREEKS

Athens Aroused Over Proposal of Allies.

MODIFICATION OF TREATY OF SEVRES

Will Not Be Accepted by Greek Assembly.

Greek General Papoulas Asks for Permission To Strike a Decisive Blow at Turkish Nationals, Says a Cable.

London, March 1.—A storm of indignation has been aroused in Athens over the allied proposal to send commissions to Thrace and Smyrna to inquire into the preponderance of nationalities, with a view to modifying the treaty of Sevres in favor of the Turks and it is accepted as a foregone conclusion that the Greek assembly will reject the proposal, said a Central News despatch from Athens, today.

The despatch added that General Papoulas, commander of the Greek forces on the Smyrna front, had telegraphed to Athens for permission to strike a decisive blow at the Turkish Nationalists.

Persia Acts.

Paris, March 1.—The new government of Persia has discarded the proposed Anglo-Persian agreement and has approved the Russo-Persian treaty of alliance, said a despatch from Teheran, today. The Anglo-Persian agreement was drawn up with the approval of the Persian shah, more than a year ago, but was never ratified by the Persian parliament. It granted Britain certain concessions and oil rights in return for which Britain promised to aid the Persian government.

DEMAND PAPERS FROM HOUSTON

Members of Senate Committee Take Action.

TREASURY SECRETARY ORDERED TO DELIVER

Must Surrender All Documents on Foreign Loans.

Committee Ignores Statement That the Papers Wanted Are Now in Hands of the Federal State Department.

Washington, March 1.—The senate judiciary committee today decided to make it "mandatory" upon Secretary of the Treasury David F. Houston to produce all official documents and other papers bearing upon foreign loans.

A motion offered by Senator Reed, Democrat, of Missouri, "directing" instead of "requesting" the secretary to produce the papers in question, was adopted unanimously by the committee, in executive session.

Has Authority.

As all foreign loans, advances and other commitments have been acknowledged by Secretary Houston to have been made under the Liberty-loan acts by the treasury department, with the advice, consent and approval of President Wilson and the state department, it was further pointed out that the committee is vested with complete authority to go into the entire matter as fully as it may deem necessary.

The committee, therefore, decided to call upon Secretary Houston to produce all the papers withheld by him from the committee, not later than 10 o'clock, tomorrow morning.

The committee ignored the fact that the papers are now, according to Secretary Houston, in the custody of the state department and put the responsibility for their production before the committee squarely up to Secretary Houston, himself.

Unless Secretary Houston withdraws the papers from the possession of Secretary Colby and produces them before the committee in response to its "mandate," the committee will take the necessary steps to hold him accountable for his refusal to do so, it was also stated.

Republicans and Democratic members of the committee joined in the action.

COSTA RICANS DIE IN BATTLE

First Clash with Panama Forces Reported.

COSTA RICAN FORCE REPULSED AT COTO

Try To Retake City Seized by Panamans.

United States Troops Are Called from Canal Zone and Are Now Patrolling Streets of Disturbed City, Wire Says.

Balboa, Panama, March 1.—Four Costa Ricans were killed and nine wounded, and two Panamans were wounded, in an hour's battle at Coto, on the Pacific ocean side of the Panama-Costa Rica frontier, Sunday night, according to despatches received today from "the front." The fighting began at 5:30 in the afternoon.

The Costa Ricans sent reinforcements in a gasoleno launch, to try to recapture Coto, which the Panamans had taken, Sunday morning, but were repulsed. The Panamans captured one mitrailleuse, twenty-five rifles, one flag and a supply of provisions.

The Panaman commander sent word that his troops would continue to hold the disputed territory "pending mediation."

The Costa Rican prisoners captured when the Panamans took Coto, Sunday morning, have been sent to Panama City.

News of the "victory" at Coto aroused great enthusiasm in Panama City. Political opponents of President Porras attempted to make capital of the situation by addressing crowds and declaring that the executive had not shown full measure of loyalty to his country. President Porras has said that he considered the territorial controversy at Coto only a police matter, until Costa Rica formally declared her definite intention of making this disputed territory part of Costa Rica. This declaration was bitterly assailed.

Opponents of President Porras sent a delegation to demand his resignation. The president refused.

Afterwards, President Porras asked Colonel Morrow, acting governor of the canal zone, to send troops to restore order and within half an hour doughboys were patrolling the streets and were guarding the presidential residence. It was said that the United States military guard would be maintained until the need for it is past.

The saloons in Panama City have been closed and the sale of arms prohibited. The city is now quiet.

BANDITS LOOK AT BABY AND WALK AWAY

Youngster Saves Parents from Two Hold-Up Men.

Cleveland, March 1.—This baby proved a good insurance against holdupmen.

As Daniel Curtin, employed at a storage plant, was leaving late last night, accompanied by his wife and baby, he was greeted with a gruff: "Hold up your hands."

The command was enforced with an automatic jabbed into his ribs.

Mr. Curtin's turn came next.

"Hold yours up, too," was the order.

"But how can I, with the baby in my arms?" she asked.

The two bandits looked at the bundle. Baby smiled at them.

"H—l, Bill, let's quit," said one and the two bandits walked down the street, whistling.

BANDITS KIDNAP MAIL WAGON DRIVER

Robbers Secure Three Sacks of Registered Mail.

Jefferson City, Missouri, March 1.—Bandits kidnaped George Williams, driver of a mail wagon, as he was making his trip from the railroad station to the postoffice, early this morning, carried him in their automobile to a point near New Bloomfield, Callaway county, twelve miles from here and left him handcuffed and tied to a tree. The robbers took three sacks of registered mail which Williams had taken from the Missouri Pacific train from St. Louis. The contents of the pouches will not be known until a check-up is made.

RECOVERY OF MORE BODIES

Expected as Wrecking Crews Proceed with Work.

THOUGHT SOME BODIES ARE UNDER ENGINE

Investigations of Disaster at Porter, Indiana, Are Under Way Today.

Porter, Ind., March 1.—Recovery of additional bodies of victims of the rail disaster here, Sunday night, was expected, today, as wrecking crews prepared to lift the heavy engine of the New York Central train from the pit its spinning wheels dug as it toppled from the track. The death list, this morning, stood at forty-two, but it is believed several bodies are buried beneath the engine.

Various investigations of the disaster, which occurred when a New York Central train plowed through a Michigan Central train at a "diamond" crossing here, also got under way in earnest today.

Governor Warren T. McCray ordered the Indiana public service commission to proceed at once with a thorough probe. His order followed alleged attempts of the Michigan Central Railway company to interfere with efforts to fix responsibility for the tragedy.

Identification.

Chicago, March 1.—More than a score of the forty-two victims of the collision between Michigan Central and New York Central passenger trains at Porter, Indiana, have been positively identified. Some of the bodies may never be identified. The wreck left them in such condition they could not be recognized.

Charles Whitehead, telegraph operator in the signal tower which regulates the passage of trains over the crossing, substantiated the statement of Jos Cook, operator of the fifty-six levers in the tower, that the signals were set against the Michigan Central train and exonerated Cook of any blame for the disaster.

Whitehead explained that the signal system was interlocking, so both tracks could not have been open at the same time. Closing the tracks to the Michigan Central automatically opened it to the New York Central and vice versa, he said.

No word has been received here from the engineer of the Michigan Central train, who has not been heard from since shortly after the accident, although he was known to have escaped serious injury.

Possibility of an immediate inquest was set aside, when Dr. H. O. Seipel, of Valparaiso, coroner of Porter county, said he would not attempt to start an inquest until the identification work had been finished. He predicted this might be a week or more.

Town Trustee R. E. Huff, the first town official on the scene, announced he intended to move toward limiting the speed at which trains could pass the village crossing. Though this is the greatest disaster Porter has ever had, it lies within one of the busiest railroad sections of the country, on the outskirts of Chicago.

Occupation Tax.

Washington, March 1.—An occupation tax of $40 a year imposed by the city of Fremont, Nebraska, was upheld, yesterday, by the United States supreme court. The legality of the tax was challenged by the Postal Telegraph company.

PROTECTION OF AMERICAN SOIL

Demands Nucleus of an Efficient Army.

UNITED STATES MUST BE FULLY PREPARED

To Meet Any Emergency That May Come Suddenly.

Is Declaration of Newton D. Baker, Who Is About To Retire as Secretary of War. Some Comments Made.

[BY HARRY L. ROGERS.]

[Copyright, 1921, by the I. N. S.]

Washington, March 1.—Newton D. Baker, who, as secretary of war during the recent world conflict, supervised the greatest army ever raised in America, believes there is no answer to the much mooted question, "who won the war?"

Speaking on that subject today, in an interview which covered many phases of his work as head of the war department, the secretary said:

"It is perfectly idle to talk about who won the war. Many nations lent their united efforts to accomplish this, but America's effort is one in which all Americans can take pride."

The entrance of America into the war, the secretary said, stimulated the morale of our allies, who were worn and weary with years of continuous fighting; it sustained the financial situation and the ideals of America were powerful in breaking the morale of the enemy.

"In addition to this," he continued, "the actual military operations conducted by the American army were on a scale far beyond the worst fears of our enemies and far above the highest hopes of our friends and in the final battles, from July 1918, to the end, the American army fought its way with brilliant success and contributed equally with the other armies to the military victory."

Although Secretary Baker has never advocated a huge standing army in peace time, the experiences of the World war have convinced him of the fallacy of the implication contained in the assertion that America can "spring into arms overnight." He has great faith in the courage, efficiency and natural aptitude for military training of the average young American, but he believes there must be a nucleus of highly-trained professional soldiers of sufficient numerical strength to hold the country until an adequate force can be assembled.

Making War.

"Wars are sudden and on a very much more tremendous scale than ever before in history," he said. "There must be at least enough preparation to maintain the integrity of the country against any attempt to invade it and to hold off the enemy, until an adequate mobilization of men and material can be made."

From 1776 to 1920, Mr. Baker pointed out, the United States, the most peace loving of the great nations of the world, has been engaged in major domestic and foreign wars, about one out of every four years and the military power of the United States has been in active use in war, or military operations of some kind, about three out of every four years.

"It is apparent, therefore," he said, "that while we do not need a great standing army, we must live in the world as it is while we struggle to make it what it should be and we must have nobody of trained men, large enough to numbers to be an effective working model upon which great armies can be swiftly built in the event of emergency."

The army as fixed by congress is somewhat too small for the most efficient training, the secretary asserted. He agrees with Secretary Daniels that the navy must be at its best when war begins, but makes no such claim for the army. He merely insists that it must be good enough and strong enough to hold an enemy in abeyance and be sufficient in size and development to grow rapidly and effectively. As for materials, there should be an adequate reserve in proportion to the time required for their creation. This applies particularly to such weapons as coast-defense guns, field cannon, machine-guns and aeroplanes. There need be no great reserve of materials used in great quantities in ordinary industry, as for example, motor trucks and automobiles.

"Whether or not a standing army comprising a separate caste and

PLATE OF BEANS CAUSE OF SHOOTING

Story Behind Trial Begun in Akron Courts.

Akron, March 1.—A plate of beans may prove the cause for Victor Gwinn, of Barberton, going to the penitentiary for life. This announcement was made by the prosecutor, today, when the trial of Gwinn for the murder of Porter Harrison, November 1, last, began in Judge K. D. Fritch's court.

According to the prosecutor, both men were boarders. The question arose as to who had eaten the most beans, and Harrison, according to the report, reached for an extra plate. Remarks followed and later hot words ensued. A fight followed in which it is charged Gwinn whipped out a gun and shot Harrison.

JOHN W. WEEKS WAR SECRETARY

Definite Announcement Made by President-Elect.

FORMAL STATEMENT ON OTHERS DELAYED

President-Elect May Deliver His Messages to Congress in Person—Seeks Cooperation.

Cincinnati, O., March 1.—Definite confirmation of the selection of John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, to be secretary of war, was given by President-Elect Harding last night.

The announcement, conforming to the expectations of all those familiar with the cabinet situation, puts into the class of certainties six of the ten selections Mr. Harding has made for his cabinet. His choices for the other four places also have been published but he indicated last night that he did not feel the time was ripe for a formal statement confirming them.

Weeks is a former United States senator and in 1916 was a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency. In the last campaign he served as a member of the Republican executive committee of Mrs. He is a banker by profession and a graduate of the naval academy and at one time is understood to have been foremost in the president-elect's mind for the navy.

Mr. Harding also let it be known last night that he is thinking seriously of following the example of President Wilson in delivering his messages to congress in person rather than by messenger, as had been the custom for many years preceding the first Wilson administration.

The president-elect said he was very favorably disposed toward oral addresses to congress, because he felt it might help to promote cooperation. Mr. Harding said he expected to keep himself accessible to newspaper correspondents and hoped to work out a plan for conferences with them at fixed periods.

As he traveled northward he virtually completed preparation of his inaugural address.

Tonight in Marion he will confer with Major General Leonard Wood, generally understood to be under consideration for governor general of the Philippines.

CONTEST OVER BIG REWARD FOR DALTON

Two Men Claim $26,000 Paid by Bond Company.

Chicago, March 1.—Two true bills were voted by the grand jury against William Dalton, 17, who took $77,000 from the Northern Trust company last Thursday. One of the counts charges grand larceny, the other embezzlement.

This action was taken soon after E. S. Guenther, attorney for the lad, announced he would make a plea of 'mental deficiency' for his client.

A legal contest has developed over the $26,000 reward for Dalton's capture. Paul Draper, the former soldier, who pointed out the young robber to his father, a constable, in the pool hall at Heyworth Saturday, has received a check for the amount and deposited it in the National bank of Heyworth. James Dennis, who picked Dalton up on the road and took him to Heyworth in his automobile, claims he is entitled to the reward and has stopped payment on the deposit.

PRESIDENT WILSON COMES TO RELIEF

Defends Baruch and Ryan in Copper Charges.

Washington, March 1.—President Wilson, today, came to the defense of Bernard M. Baruch and John D. Ryan, against whom charges have been made in the house of representatives, alleging that these men while serving the government, made large profits from copper transactions during the war.

President Wilson addressed a letter to Representative F. J. Garrett of Tennessee, stating that the charges which were made against the two men have been "satisfactorily answered." But in view of the fact that "irresponsible gossip" still continues, he desires to say that neither Mr. Baruch or Mr. Ryan had anything to do with the fixing of the price of copper during the war.

RULING TO END PROSECUTIONS

Profiteer Sections of Lever Law Invalid.

ELABORATION ON THE REPORT OF MONDAY

Government Acts Against the Miners in 1919 and Against Profiteers Under Law.

Washington, March 1.—The supreme court held unconstitutional the sections of the Lever act, under which the government stopped the coal strike in 1919 and subsequently launched its campaign to reduce the cost of living by prosecuting alleged hoarders of and profiteers in foodstuffs and other necessities.

The court's opinion was rendered specifically in an appeal by the government from a decree in lower courts quashing an indictment against an alleged profiteer in sugar, but it was sweeping in its terms and will have the effect of ending all prosecutions instituted by the department of justice in its cost of living campaign.

The action of the government in obtaining injunctions to stop the strike of bituminous miners in November, 1919, was not before the court, but department of justice officials said that it was under section 4, which was held invalid, that the government had proceeded against the miners.

The opinion of the court was based largely on the indefiniteness of the sections under review. Chief Justice White, departing from his prepared opinion, remarked that the scope of the sections apparently was "as broad as human imagination," and that the "degree of criminality was left to ever changing standards."

Associate Justices Brandeis and Pitney dissented as to the reasoning by which the court's decision was reached, but concurred in the result.

A social hour followed the meeting.

The Baptist Mission society met at the house of Rev. and Mrs. H. K. Freeman Thursday afternoon with a good attendance. After the business session a letter was read by Mrs. William Powell from the Mather school matron in the south, to which the society sent supplies recently. Mrs. Sivey read a letter from Miss Martin, a home missionary in Wyoming, telling of her work there.

The text book was then taken up "Bible and Missions" the first chapter being discussed by Mrs. F. E. Moyer, Rev. Freeman, Mrs. Gerald Roberts, Mrs. Cleo Cox. Mrs. Harry Mounts then gave an interesting reading after which Mrs. Trickey took charge of the question box. A social hour followed.

The Union Missionary prayer service for the various churches of the town was held Wednesday afternoon at the Baptist church.

Evangelist R. W. Littrell and singer, D. L. Moody, were a great success. They closed Sunday evening with forty-five persons going forward. The meetings were well attended by people of the town and a collection was taken at the end of the meeting which amounted to nearly $350; which was given to the two men for their three weeks of service.

Mrs. F. C. Poppleton entertained the Friday Dinner club at her home Friday evening at dinner, for the husbands of the members of the club.

FATE OF MEASURE RESTS WITH WILSON

Congressional Action on Tariff Bill Is Completed.

Washington, March 1.—Congressional action on the Fordney emergency tariff bill was completed by the senate and the fate of the measure, designed to defeat the slump in farm commodity prices, now rests with President Wilson. The senate action, which was to approve the report of its conference committee, was by a vote of 42 to 36. Eleven Democrats pulled away from their party position and supported the bill, while four Republicans voted against the measure. The house accepted the conference report Saturday by a vote of 285 to 1.7.

Due to the termination of this congress Friday, the president either can veto the bill and send it back with his reason for doing so, or he can simply destroy it by a pocket veto, which would give no opportunity for congress to override his wishes.

SHERIFF USES HANDCAR IN CHASE FOR A NEGRO

Wanted for Hold-Up at Kent and Lands Quarry.

RACE TAKES SHERIFF ACROSS MUDDY FIELDS

Colored Man Finally Landed in Jail—Kent Victim Loses $400.

After an exciting chase that ended in a run of more than a mile through muddy fields on the farm of Edward Holverstott, three miles northeast of Marion, Sheriff Frank A. Washburn this morning captured a colored man who is said to be wanted in Kent on a holdup charge. The negro, who is being held in the county jail, gave his name as William Prince and is about thirty years of age.

Police this morning received a request from the officials at Kent to be on the lookout for a colored man who is charged with having held up a citizen there and escaped with $400. The Kent authorities said the man's name is Manuel Robinson and his age about forty-three years.

On the Blind Baggage.

Prince reached Marion on the blind baggage of an Erie passenger train early this morning and escaped from railroad detectives who attempted to arrest him in the local yards. Police later learned that the man had gone outside the city limits and requested the sheriff to attempt to capture him.

Sheriff Washburn, accompanied by Patrolmen Tessner and Yoakam started out on the Kenton-Bucyrus road and when they reached the vicinity of Liken's chapel they were told the man had gone toward the Pennsylvania railroad tracks.

Sheriff Washburn secured a handcar and went forth on the Pennsylvania a distance of two miles, near Toulon and not finding trace of the fugitive returned to Liken's chapel.

Across the Fields.

The negro then started across the fields and on getting track of the fugitive chased him for a mile and three-quarters before the capture was made. The negro neared a fence and before going over it turned to see how close the sheriff was.

Sheriff Washburn leveled a shotgun on the colored man, who surrendered. The sheriff brought the man to Marion in an automobile.

The prisoner stated that his home is in Cincinnati and that he came to Marion from Chicago. When arrested he had ninety-six cents and was unarmed. He claimed he did not know what he is wanted for and further than this would not talk. He wore an army uniform under a pair of trousers and overalls. He is about five feet nine inches tall and weighs about 140 pounds.

WOMAN TALKS OF QUEEN CITY MURDER

Says Man in Jail Is with Slayer of Student.

Newark, March 1.—Marie Mumford Pletcher is alleged to have told Sheriff Garret in Zanesville, last night, that her partner, Jack Burns, was a party to the murder of Harlan Brate, a high school student, in Arlington heights, Cincinnati, the night of January 16, during a holdup. She states that Burns did not fire the shot that killed Brate, but he was in the automobile when another of the trio did fire the shot. Burns and the Pletcher woman are in the Muskingum county jail, charged with having robbed the woman's grandfather, David Matthews, whose home is in Darlington, a small village west of Zanesville.

They were arrested and have been in jail in Zanesville since February 5. Sheriff Garret has notified the Cincinnati police and they will be in Zanesville today, to take charge of the case.

Order Expected Today.

Columbus, March 1.—An order by the state tax commission rescinding its tentative decree calling for reappraisal of real estate in sixty counties, is expected to be issued today.

COURT ORDERS VERDICT TODAY

Two Defendants at Williamson Not Guilty.

MEN DISMISSED FROM CUSTODY

State Completes Submission of Its Testimony and Rests This Afternoon.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, West Virginia, March 1.—Two of the nineteen defendants in the "trigger" trial—William Starr and Fred. Burgraf—were found not guilty by the jury, this afternoon upon instructions to that effect by Judge Robert D. Bailey.

Captain S. B. Avis, for the prosecution, informally resting the state's case, had announced that the prosecution had been unable to find evidence to establish guilt beyond a reasonable doubt in the cases of these two men. They were formally released.

Neither Starr nor Burgraf betrayed the slightest emotion. They remained in their seats in defendants' row.

J. J. Coniff opened the defense by reviving, in a sensational manner, the question as to whether the Coal Operators' association employed the five special prosecutors in the case.

Both Thomas L. Felts and Captain Avis have declared under oath that Felts personally engaged the five lawyers.

Coniff injected a mysterious letter into the case, purporting to show financial connection of the coal dealers' organization with the prosecution. Judge Bailey said he would not rule on introduction of the document, in whole or in part, until tomorrow.

Tony Webb, deputy county clerk, was the first witness. He was in the sheriff's office here when Sid. Hatfield called him on the long-distance telephone from Matewan a few hours before the battle.

State Rests.

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., March 1.—The commonwealth of West Virginia rested its case in the "trigger" trial at 10:40 o'clock, today.

The defense prepared to present its evidence, this afternoon. All of the nineteen defendants, including Chief of Police Sid Hatfield, of Matewan, will be placed on the witness stand, but not until the majority of other eye witnesses to the bullet battle of May 19, last, have been examined.

It was further learned today, that N. H. Atwood, the indictment against whom was nollied, just before the jury was sworn in, will be a star witness for the defense. He will swear that he saw Albert Felts fire the first shot.

IN COMMON PLEAS

Case Is Dismissed.

The case of the Kemper-Thomas company against William D. Jenner was dismissed in the common pleas court today at the costs of the plaintiff without prejudice toward the bringing of a new action. The Kemper-Thomas company was suing for $20 alleged due them for some calendars ordered by the defendant.

Foos Answer Filed.

The answer of Grover Foos, Nettie Foos, Retha C. Showers, Cora M. Foos, Lydia M. Foos and Cora Foos was filed in the common pleas court Monday afternoon, through H. A. Stevens, in the partition suit of Zilow Foos against Oida Foos and others. The answer admits all the allegations of the petition and concurs in its prayer for partition.

Both Want Rehearing.

Motions for a rehearing have been filed by both the plaintiff and defendant in the divorce case of Ethel Marie Hickok against Lewis C. Hickok. The case was heard Saturday, when the petition of the plaintiff was dismissed and the defendant granted a divorce on his cross-petition on the ground of gross neglect. The plaintiff was awarded $200 alimony.

Through Justice, Young & Monier the defendant filed a motion for a rehearing, alleging that the decree of the court as to alimony is not sustained by the weight of the evidence and there are other errors apparent. The plaintiff filed a motion through L. E. Myers on the ground that no provision was made for permanent alimony.

Reply Is Filed.

Through Benjamin Meck of Cyrus, the reply of the plaintiff was filed today in the case of the Silverstine Junk company against Max Kesselman, doing business as the Marion Iron & Metal company. Kesselman is suing for $200.65. The reply sets up that the plaintiff has filed a certificate with the clerk of courts in Crawford county as required by law.

Wife Gets Divorce.

Emma A. Lucas today in the common pleas court was granted a divorce from Wilbur Lucas on the ground of gross neglect and extreme cruelty. There are no children. The decree was ordered withheld for thirty days.

ing-street meeting will be communicated to the Germans at 11 o'clock, tomorrow morning, when the next session of the indemnity conference will be held at St. James palace.

German Proposals.

London, March 1.—Germany's counter indemnity proposals, as outlined here, today, by Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, call for the payment of 50,000,000,000 gold marks, the Germans contending that 20,000,000,000 gold marks of this amount have already been paid. Dr. Simons proposed that payment of a sum not to exceed 30,000,000,000 gold marks be made within the next thirty years. The German foreign minister suggested that Germany get money for indemnity payments through the floating of international loans.

Dr. Simons suggested that the first loan be of 5,000,000,000 gold marks tax-exempt in all countries.

A Big Conference.

London, March 1.—The greatest financial conference the world has ever known opened here, today, when the allies met the Germans to discuss German's war indemnity, which has been set at $56,500,000,000 in addition to a twelve-per-cent. tax on exports. The United States was not represented.

The supreme council convened in the gold damask dining-room of Lancaster house at 11:40 o'clock, to receive the German counter-proposals. Dr. Walter Simons, German foreign minister, read a long typewritten statement on general reparations principles and handed to the allied statesmen a printed volume of detailed criticism upon the Brussels decisions.

It was regarded as certain that Premier Lloyd George, as spokesman for the allies, would demand concise proposals to replace the vague theories contained in the German volume.

Owing to the desire of the allies to get the momentous problems settled as quickly as possible, the opening date of the conference was moved up two days. This was made possible by the arrival of Dr. Simons and other important members of the German delegations, last night.

German delegates said, they had worked till the final hour before the opening of the conference, altering details of the German counter-proposals, but despite this statement it was reported that the full text had been turned over to the Wolff bureau and other news distributing agencies to be released.

Two important despatches bearing upon the situation had been received upon the eve of the conference. One was that France was moving up guns, troops and ammunition to the "Rhine front," in preparation for a march into Germany if the Germans balk at the allied demands; the other was a message from Amsterdam quoting the Dutch newspaper, Handelsblad, as follows:

"It is learned from an authoritative source that the Germans will agree to complete disarmament in hope of gaining financial concessions from the allies."

To Make Reply.

Premier Lloyd George, who was selected to reply to the Germans for the allies, probably will make his answer at Wednesday's session, the interim being devoted to study of the German statement.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily News wrote optimistically of the probable outcome of the conference, recalling the declaration by members of the Teutonic delegation that "the magnitude of Germany's offer would astonish the world."

This writer said that the indications were that Germany would ask that the reparations payments be confined to thirty years instead of being stretched out over forty-two years and that Germany would propose that all of devastated France be reconstructed with German labor.

class apart from the life of the nation is dangerous, depends upon a variety of considerations," said the secretary, "but that it is relatively useless is clear. Our great army in the war was strong because it was part of the whole people of the United States, in fresh and constant contact with the thoughts and feelings of the civil fireside from which it had come."

Secretary Baker paid a high tribute to the work of reserve officers in the war. He gave full credit to Major General Leonard Wood as the originator of the "Plattsburg idea."

"The reserve officers' training camp idea is a most excellent one and should not be abandoned," he said. "The young men of America who were trained at Plattsburg and in similar camps, played an enormously important part in the war. The idea came from General Wood. It was a most constructive, forward looking suggestion."

"Mr. Secretary, your colleagues say Daniels has gone on record as favoring the bridging of the gap between officers and enlisted men. What do you think of the contention that 'Prussianism' or 'iron discipline' is necessary in the army?"

"There must, of course, be discipline if the army is to be an efficient fighting machine and not a mob," Mr. Baker replied. "Officers can not establish relations with the men which would lay them open to charges of favoring or petting.

"There is no lack of democracy in the American army, today, however. At any army dance, one may see officers, enlisted men and civilians meeting on a footing of equality and all enjoying themselves. The introduction of the hostess' house into army posts and camps tends to improve social conditions and promote a better understanding between officers and enlisted men."

Secretary Baker is convinced that the opportunity for education and recreation is largely responsible for the great increase in applications for enlistment which marked the closing months of the year, 1920.

"The educational opportunities offered by the army have been accepted seriously by the soldier," the secretary said. "They are, of course, purely voluntary. I have no doubt that the time will come and that speedily, when the peace-time army of the United States will be, throughout, an educational institution from which men will graduate at the termination of their enlistment better equipped to enter civilian pursuits and with a larger and firmer grasp on citizenship, with its responsibilities and privileges. Such a system removes from a peace-time army the reproach of wasted time. It gives to life in the army an immediate practice and useful purpose, without at all interfering with the defensive purposes for which the army is maintained and it makes the the ex-soldier a healthy, useful and trained citizen."

Let's Forget The Old High Prices

Prices Born of a World Wide War—and the collapse of the Ordinary Industries and Activities of Mankind

How Good to the Eye and Ear and Purse is the Return of Normal Prices.

We believe Folks are sick and tired of hearing about the high War Time Prices.

We believe the Public wants to forget them.

We believe Everybody wants to hear about new Prices that are most decidedly Lower—without any bluster or exaggeration or comparison with the maligned and abused inflated prices of last year and the year before.

Folks are rapidly getting back to normal, common sense thinking.

They don't want rhetoric—they want facts.

Comparative prices are being flung about so recklessly and so frequently by advertisers these days in the public prints that it seems high time to call a halt.

Merchants who pride themselves on the truthfulness and dependability of their published announcements—should awaken to the facts.

The publics' confidence in advertising generally will be shaken and undermined—should this same recklessness continue.

We have tried consistently to tell the people about our store in strict accordance with facts. When we have told of comparative prices—it has ever been our aim to relate the simple truth.

Our published statements, we believe, enjoy the confidence and respect of the public.

But comparative prices are being overdone.

Such disregard of facts is certain to react upon all comparative or otherwise.

The public wants simple, plain unvarnished truth and facts.

For which reasons, and in keeping with the spirit of the times from this day forth

Our Advertising Will Contain No Comparative Prices

Just one price—the price at which the merchandise will be offered—together with adequate description of the goods itself.

If it is a special or unusual value we will tell you so. And if we say it's special—we stake our reputation upon that assertion.

A store can't afford to lie any more than a man can.

It doesn't pay!

THE HUB OF COMMERCE.

Daily Proverb—"That is often pleasant to remember which was hard to endure."

Any man who doesn't like our form of government should be compelled to do his disliking from outside the country.

By the way, what has become of that "senatorial oligarchy" of which we heard so much from the Democratic side of the fence during the campaign?

Anyway, we understand that Einstein claims he understands his theory and we are willing to let it go at that.

It wouldn't surprise us greatly should time demonstrate that some of the editorial big guns overlooked a bet or two in withholding their seals of approval from several other pieces of cabinet timber.

The most regretful phase of the thing is that the war waste was so mighty and long-continued that people have tired of hearing about it.

The government should take cognizance of the fact that we are yet theoritically at war and proceed to give exponents of anarchy what's coming to them.

Emma Goldman is again asking to be permitted to return to this country, but the general feeling seems to be that it would be a shame to deprive Emma of the enchantment which distance throws about her.

Good business judgment should prompt the European powers which are blowing in good money over here for propaganda purposes to apply it on their debts.

Dr. Frank Crane may mean well in suggesting that the United States disarm first, but it is our guess that Uncle Sam isn't soon going to see his likeness in the papers, carrying the statement that he held the bag in the great international snipe hunt.

If this country were half so wet as the wets would have us believe, it would look like a twin brother to Paradise to them. But it doesn't.

Of course there are a couple of big dates intervening, but let us be on the safe side and bear in mind that that blank must be filled and started for the internal revenue collector by March 15.

A cable from Holland says that the diamond market is on the rocks. But a little thing like that would hardly make the diamond market unique, as markets go.

Samuel Gompers says the Mexican government comes as near to being a government of and for working people as any government on earth." But still Samuel remains with us. Does he lack the courage of his convictions or does he no longer consider himself a working man?

VALUE OF LIFE INSURANCE.

One day of thrift week, which was observed throughout the United States recently, was devoted to creation of greater interest in life insurance. It is probable that there are still a few persons who regard life insurance as "diving into the face of providence," as some opponents of insurance protection have designated it, but insurance is now recognized as of such business value that persons of intelligence no longer make any pretense of opposition.

The business of promoting interest in insurance in its approved forms should not be left to those who are directly engaged in the selling of policies. It should be the desire of every person that his neighbor be amply protected from any loss that is avoidable, either through his death or because of accident or sickness.

Insurance constitutes a great mutual organization, in which its members undertake to protect each other against certain kinds of losses. No person considers himself a good business man if he neglects to protect his buildings or other property from complete loss by fire. Loss of the earning power of the individual because of death or incapacity should be guarded against as well.

"No Butter?"

THE SAME OLD GAME.

Setting up a straw man and then knocking it down with much display of courage and strength has long been one of the tricks of demagogues. Instead of fighting real men and real issues, they set up false issues which they can easily destroy, and then expect the world to believe they have accomplished something worth while. This sort of thing has been characteristic of the proponents of the league of nations, the advocates of debt cancellation and a lot of other people who are always taking the anti-American view of public questions. Here, for instance, is a prominent newspaper asserting with great flourish:

"It is plain that Europe can not pay its huge debt to this government and its people, if it can not trade with us. * * * It is equally plain or should be, that the United States can not permanently refuse association with Europe in the settlement of problems which are mutual."

The straw men in this assertion—the false assumption—is that the United States ever proposed either to refuse to buy European goods or to confer with European nations in the settlement of "mutual" problems. The United States has not taken the attitude indicated in either instance, so the assertion quoted above is not proper to any current discussion of real public questions.

The United States does not propose to erect an absolute barrier to the importation of foreign goods. It does not propose prohibitory tariffs. All it proposes is an import duty which shall represent the difference in cost of production here and in other countries, so that the American producer shall not be destroyed by the cheap labor and low standards of living of Europe and Asia. This has been stated so many times that no man need be in doubt as to the American attitude of the Republican party. We are willing Europe shall pay her debts partly in goods and services, but not in a free market which would be ruinous to the American producer.

Neither has the United States ever proposed to refuse all association with other nations in the settlement of mutual problems. On the contrary, from the foundation of the government we have appointed representatives of this government to all the other civilized nations of the earth for the very purpose of settling mutual problems. We were pioneers in the arbitration movement and were participants in The Hague conferences. We shall continue to confer with other nations for the promotion of peace, justice and general welfare.

The purpose of statements such as that quoted above is perfectly clear—to create the impression that the United States must choose between free trade and cessation of foreign purchases, between isolation and the league of nations. No such choice need be made. We can have a protective tariff that is not a prohibitive tariff—we can negotiate with other nations without making the "supreme sacrifice" to a league dominated by Great Britain or any other nation.

There's a demand for this or that piece of legislation from the incoming administration, but our guess is that a simplified income tax blank would do about as much to increase the betting average of the joy of living as anything.

Certainly there can be no objection to Mr Morgenthau representing Mr. Wilson personally in Europe after March 4, provided, of course, that Uncle Sam isn't requested to pay the freight.

The late P. T. Barnum said a sucker was born every minute, but that rate would hardly supply the demand in these post-war days when people are going to trading Liberty bonds for worthless stocks.

Burgdoll says this county has nothing to attract him, which just as good as leaves Secretary Baker alone in running down that bag of gold. Anyway, we take it that Burgy doesn't propose to come back and look for it.

LIFE'S VAUDEVILLE.

(By James Hall Naylor)

WHERE ARE THEY?

As I recall, an old song used to run:

"Go for my wandering boy tonight,
Go search for him where you will;
And bring him to me with all his blight—
And tell him I love him still.
Oh! where is my boy tonight?
Oh! where is my boy tonight?
My heart o'erflows, for I love him he knows—
Oh! where is my boy tonight?"

Where are they tonight, parents—your children?

Where do they spend their leisure time?

And how do they spend it?

In what kind of company do they spend it?

Where are your boys?

Where are your girls?

Father, are you so absorbed in your business affairs that you have no time to think about where your children go—what they do—what companions they have—what hours they keep—what habits they are forming?

Mother, are you so devoted to society that you are leaving your children, your boys and girls, to the care of servants—or to the care of no one but themselves?

Parents, do you foolishly hold that youth must have its fling—without due restraint and guidance?

Are you weakly indulgent—or are you selfishly careless?

Are you sowing the wind of complacency—that you may reap the whirlwind of grief?

Are you sowing in pleasure—that you may reap in sorrow?

Where are your children—today, tonight?

Up in Chicago there's a little woman I know—a widow, with twin sons seven years old. During the day she works in a down-town bank, necessarily leaving the two boys in the care of another woman; but every night, and each Sunday and holiday, she's with her boys. She talks with her laddies, plays games with them, goes to shows with them, takes walks with them; she reads with them, teaches them, advises them. She is mother and mentor, comrade and counselor. These boys have never gone a day to school; yet they readily read and write, and are studying numbers, English, geography, United States history, and so on. They can and do read in the newspapers and magazines; they can and do run a typewriter and play a little on a piano. And their mother has taught them—of nights and Sundays. She's a wonder—for she's a real mother. My hat's off to her. But the boys are a pair of sissies, you suggest—and will grow up to be a pair of impossible prigs? Not at all! They are a pair of red-blooded, rollicking, mischief-loving boys; and they'll grow up to be a pair of clean and useful men—I trust and believe. At any rate, if that mother ever has to ask in agony of soul—"Where are my wandering boys tonight?"—she won't have to confess to her heart that she is to blame in the case.

Fathers, mothers, where are your children—what are they doing? What games are they playing, what amusements are they seeking, what shows are they seeing, what books are they reading, what companions are they having, what habits are they forming?

Where are your children—now, today, tonight?

THE AMERICAN FLAG

The American flag is the symbol of the brotherhood of man: It stands for courage, for chivalry, for generosity and honor.

No hand must touch it roughly, no hand shall touch it irreverently.

Its position is aloft. To float over its children, uplifting their eyes and hearts to its glowing colors and splendid promise; for under the Stars and Stripes are opportunities unknown to any other nation of the world.

The government commands the people to honor their flag: Men and boys should uncover as they pass the vivid scripes which represent the life blood of brave men and the stars which shall shine on forever.

It must be raised at sunrise; lowered at sunset. It is not a plaything of the hour; it is a birthright of privilege and integrity.

It may not be used as staff, or ship or covering.

It shall not be marred by advertisement, nor desecrated on the stage.

It was born in tears and blood: it was baptized in blood and tears:

It has floated since June 14, 1777, over a country of benevolence, refuge and progress.

It must always be carried upright: To bear the Star Spangled Banner is an honor, to own one a sacred trust.

It is the emblem of freedom, of equality, of justice for every person and creature as it floats unvanquished—untarnished over the open door of free education.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS PURCHASE CITY MARKET

Pay $20,000 for Property for Home Site.

POSSESSION IS TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY, APRIL 1

Lodge, with Membership of 328, Plans To Erect Four-Story Building.

Marion Court No. 672 Knights of Columbus, Monday completed the first step toward the establishment of a permanent home when the council's holding company purchased the City Market building, No 141 north State street at a consideration of $20,000.

Possession will be given the Knights of Columbus April 1 and it is the intention of the council to erect a modern four-story building, to include a modern market-house, club and lodge rooms, gymnasium, dormitory and swimming pool, on the site within the next two or three years. The structure will be made one of the finest of its kind in the city.

Purchase of the property was made by the holding company through the Cardington bank and W. B. Denman, of Delaware avenue, who controlled the property.

Busy for Some Time.

For some time the Marion council has been at work on a plan for the construction of a modern home and it has received the active co-operation of all the Catholic societies in the city in its work of raising sufficient funds. Only a short time ago the Catholic Woman's league, which includes representatives of all the Catholic women's organizations in the city, was formed for the expressed purpose of assisting the council in its work and its first entertainment was given Monday night, February 7.

Within the council itself a holding company of twenty-three members was organized for the home project and for the past sixty days a stock campaign has been under way. This work was carried on under the direction of F. C. Lutz and Carl Werley, appointed by the Knights of Columbus as team captains, and it was the excellent work of these teams and the splendid encouragement given them that made the purchase of the City market property possible.

Members of the holding company are H. Kelleher, F. O'Mara, Carl Werley, D. Molloy, J. Walsh, Walter Macken, James Cusic, J. P. McAndrews, L. A. Axe, C. M. Stull, P. H. Neidig, A. C. Edmondson, P. Dwyer, C. McCartney, Rev. J. M. Denning, David Martin, William Fabian, J. F. Prendergast, J. A. Schroeter, C. U. Graf, F. C. Lutz, Murray T. Snyder and A. Bianchi. Officers of the holding company are C. U. Graf, chairman; William Fabian, financial secretary, and J. P. McAndrew, secretary.

Definite Idea.

While plans for the new building are necessarily tentative at the present time, members of the council and the holding company have agreed upon a general plan for the structure, which includes some very definite ideas as to what sort of a building will be erected and how it shall be arranged.

It is the intention to raze the old structure now on the property and construct a strictly modern three or four-story brick building with a finished basement. In the basement, according to the tentative plans now under discussion, will be located a large swimming pool, shower baths lockers and bowling alleys. The main floor will contain a modern market house.

On the second floor will be located the council club-rooms, which are to be fitted up most attractively with billiard tables, a library, writing rooms and other features which go to make a comfortable attractive club. Another feature of this floor will be a large modern gymnasium fitted with all the necessary apparatus.

The third floor is to contain the council rooms and possibly a number of rooms to serve as a dormitory, as the size of the building will make the arrangement of such rooms possible without interfering with the ...

On Fourth Floor.

On the fourth floor will be the largest ball room and auditorium ... and dressing rooms ... a stage ... It is planned that the new building ... approximately $250,000 ...

For years the site of the market ... was the most popular meeting ... and owned by the ... Seven years ago it was purchased by Smucker & Cassidy, of Newark who erected the present building for a skating rink and it was operated as such by them for a period of about ten years.

Market-House Seven Years Ago.

Seven years ago the structure was converted into a market house and is now operated under lease by Charles W. Haberman. The site is most valuable and convenient and the size of the property, sixty-six by 165 feet, is unusually large for a business block and will permit the erection of a commodious, well equipped home such as the Knights of Columbus have in mind to construct.

Marion Council, Knights of Columbus, was organized eighteen years ago and from a modest beginning has grown until now it has a membership of 328. A new class is to be initiated into the council next Sunday, when the total membership will be brought up to approximately 400.

A meeting of the council is to be held tonight to make further arrangements for the initiation next Sunday. A meeting of the holding company also will be held tonight when plans for the new home will be considered.

COUNCIL CAUCUS ON SEWERS AND GARBAGE

It Follows Meeting Which Is Held Last Night.

RESOLUTION TO PAVE UNCAPHER AVENUE STRIP

Number of State Street and Hughes Avenue Residents Ask for Sewer.

While only a small amount of business was transacted at the meeting of the city council, Monday night, some time was given to hearing arguments relative to the proposed sewer on north State street, 12th and Hughes avenues.

After the meeting the council held a caucus to discuss the preliminary steps for the proposed new garbage disposal plant and sewer system.

A number of residents from north State street and Hughes avenue were in the lobby and spoke of the necessity of a sewer in that vicinity. They explained that most of the people who remonstrated against the sewer lived on the west side of State street where they had a sewer at the rear of their properties, while others had vacant lots north of Hazen street and some signers of the remonstrance were given a wrong impression as to the cost of the sewer.

What They Say.

The lobbyists stated that their petition for the improvement only took in the section from Fairground to Hazen street and on Hughes avenue and that the majority of the residents were for it. The legislation will be taken up at the next meeting to give the residents of that vicinity some sewer relief.

A resolution was adopted for the paving of Uncapher avenue from Bennett street to Bellefontaine avenue. A request that action be taken on the matter of paving Lafourette street was made by one of the residents of the street and the street-and-alley committee is to visit the scene and make an investigation Saturday afternoon.

A petition to extend Otis street from the east line of the Hocking Valley to the east line of Davids street was referred to the city solicitor.

TO LIVE LONG!

A recipe given by a famous physician for long life was: "Keep the kidneys in good order! Try to eliminate through the skin and intestines the poisons that otherwise clog the kidneys. Avoid eating meat as much as possible; avoid too much salt, alcohol, tea. Try a milk and vegetable diet. Drink plenty of water, and exercise so you sweat—the skin helps to eliminate the toxins (poisons) and uric acid."

For those past middle life, for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation, as backache, scalding "water," or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, "rusty" joints, stiffness, get "Anuric" (anti-uric acid) at the drug store. This is a wonderful eliminator of uric acid and was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce for trial pkg.

DON'T SUFFER WITH NEURALGIA

Use Soothing Musterole

When those sharp pains go shooting through your head, when your skull seems as if it would split, just rub a little Musterole on your temples and neck. It draws out the inflammation, soothes away the pain, usually giving quick relief.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister.

Many doctors and nurses frankly recommend Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). It is always dependable.

CITY IN BRIEF

With Galion Kiwanis—Dr. J. W. McMurray, president, and Grant E. Mousex Jr., secretary of the Marion Kiwanis lub, are in Galion today attending the initial luncheon and organization meeting of the Galion Kiwanis club. The Galion club is being organized with a large membership and held its first luncheon in the Elks' club there at noon today. Officers are to be elected.

Births and Deaths—During the short month of February, the births in the city ran far ahead of the deaths as reported to the local registrars. Of the forty-nine births during the month, thirty-one were males and eighteen were females. There were thirteen male deaths and fourteen female deaths reported. The deaths were attributed to causes as follows: Exhaustion, 2; pneumonia, 3; appendicitis, 1; convulsions, 1; nephritis, 1; heart disease, 3; hemorrhage, 1; apoplexy, 4; carcinoma, 2; grip, 1; indigestion, 1; senility, 1; accident, 2; premature, 2; suicide, 1; tuberculosis, 1.

Hospital Denies It—Hospital officials deny that they purposely suppressed news of the death Saturday morning of Mrs. Peter Schmitt, an account of whose demise was not carried in the local newspapers until Monday. It is claimed that at the time newspaper telephone calls to the hospital the nurses were busy in the operating room and that the bookeeper happened to be away with the result that the person answering the phone failed to report the death. A Mansfield undertaker had been called, Mrs. Schmitt being a resident of that city.

Debate Teams Arranged—The members of the Harding High school debate teams were today assigned their places on the teams for the coming triangular inter-school debate between Marion, Bucyrus and Delaware to be held March 10. The statement at issue is, "Resolved, That the United States Should Adopt a Protective Tariff." The affirmative team is to debate here with Delaware and the negative will debate at Bucyrus. A trophy worthy of the contest is to be awarded to the winning school. The debaters have been working hard and the following assignments were made last night: Affirmative, first speaker, Frank Weeks; second speaker, Robert Fitts; third speaker, Doris Boudley; alternate, Edmund Spohn. Negative, first speaker, Samuel Fife; second speaker, Mary Pennock; third speaker, Edwin Knachel; alternate, Kenneth Smith.

February Fire Loss—The fire loss during the month of February was the heaviest loss Marion has had since November 1908, when the Uhler-Phillips fire occurred. During the month the firemen responded to nine calls and the loss was $2,500 exclusive of the loss of the Hoch Motor Sales company, which was estimated at $135,000. During the corresponding month of last year there were sixteen calls with a loss of $8,500. The calls responded to last month were as follows: Edward Hampshire, residence, Chestnut street, 2nd; S. F. Miller, residence, Windsor street, 6th; Campbell school building, Campbell road, 10th; Max Kesselman, storage room, rear of No. 480 west Center street, 13th; Ernest Phillians, residence, Davids street, 15th; Anna Foreman, residence, Holmes Place, 21st; Hoch Motor Sales company, garage, south Main street, 23d; Guy Heckerman, residence, rear No. 227 south Prospect street, 24th; J. D. Hoskins, residence, Windsor street, 27th.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2 and get the best cough remedy you ever tried

You're probably tired of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families the world over feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or if desired clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

Nervous Traveler Who Couldn't Sleep Says Plain Bitro-Phosphate Put Him Right.

A Kentucky commercial traveler whose health had failed to the extent that he was about ready to give up his position, found that the organic phosphate known as Bitro-Phosphate possessed remarkable properties for restoring weak nerves and building up strength and endurance. Numerous physicians of late have recommended the use of this harmless inexpensive substance. The Rexall Store and all good druggists now keep it in stock.—Adv.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Tells Safe and Simple Way To Treat and Relieve at Home.

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ¾ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment, breathing should become easy while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, clouds thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing, and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh, and there must therefore be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple home treatment.—Adv.

Her fluffiness sighed prodigiously.

"I know," she said, the ready tears of self-pity starting to her eyes. "But I simply must. I truly never thought of Leila's favorite color being pink when I fixed that room. And I can see just how it will be. All will be buying her all sorts of pink roses and they won't go with it and her house gowns are all rose color. I don't know why I didn't think of all this before."

Grimly to myself I said that I shared her wonderment, but I knew it was no time to indulge in even mental criticism. All our faculties must be bent toward the task to which I saw my little neighbor had already committed herself.

"To think how much I spent on those things," she was lamenting. "I've wanted my own room done over for so long, but never thought I could afford it, and now this is all wasted."

"Is," Lillian asked inconically, and again I felt a leap of my pulses. When Lillian speaks in that tone I always know that she has outlined her course of action and is ready to put herself—and incidentally everybody around her—into harness.

"Why—what do you mean?" Mrs. Durkee faltered.

"Tell me the truth now," Lillian smiled. "Aren't these your favorite colors?"

She waved her hand toward the delicate cream and olive draperies.

"Yes—they are," Mrs. Durkee admitted, "but I honestly didn't think of that when I selected them."

"Of course you didn't," Lillian soothed. "I simply judged by my own experience and observation of other people. Doesn't everybody in the world subconsciously select for Christmas and birthday and wedding gifts the things they like themselves? It's to same principle, and in this case it is fortunate because, if my eyes aren't at fault, these draperies will exactly fit your windows, and the rugs will be beautiful on your floors."

"But there's coming home to—now right!" Mrs. Durkee wailed.

Lillian clapped her chin in her hand and put her elbows on her knees. I signaled to Mrs. Durkee to keep silence, for I knew what was best just then. Another minute or two of argument and I knew it was as good as telephoned," she said. "Do you want to hear my entire plan as it stands in mind were all plan?"

"You have a sewing machine?" she asked.

"Yes, and Lelia's is here, too. She had it sent out when she was making her trousseau."

"Yours is in order, Madge?"

"I hope so." I said, with a thought of the traces of vandalism which I had found in my house that

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORIES

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JIMMIE'S JUMBLES.

[BY HOWARD R. GARIS.]

[Copyright 1921, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.]

Jimmie! Oh, Jimmie!", called Mrs. Wibblewobble, the duck lady, to her little boy as he was hurrying to school one day.

"Yes, mother, what is it?" he asked, turning around.

"On your way home stop at the baker's and bring some cakes for Uncle Wiggily's supper," said Mrs. Wibblewobble.

"All right, I will," promised Jimmie, and then he ran on to have a game of marbles with Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boys, before the Lady Mouse Teacher should ring the bell to call them in to the hollow stump school.

"I hope Jimmie doesn't forget the cakes," said Mrs. Wibblewobble as she and Nurse Jane began to do the dusting and sweeping.

"Well, if he does forget I'll remind him of them," said Uncle Wiggily, who was twinkling his tail, his nose and getting ready to go out and look for an adventure. "I'll be passing the hollow stump school about the time the animal boys and girls will be coming out," said the rabbit gentleman, "and I'll speak to Jimmie about bringing the cakes."

"That will be very kind of you," spoke Mrs. Wibblewobble. Then she and Nurse Jane went on with the housework, while Uncle Wiggily hopped over the fields and through the woods, looking for an adventure.

But adventures seemed to be scarce that day, or at least the bunny rabbit gentleman did not find any, and, after a while, Mr. Longears found himself near the bake shop.

"It is nearly time for school to be out," thought the rabbit gentleman. "I'll just step in here and ask if Jimmie got the cakes his mother told him to buy. If he has forgotten them I'll bring them."

"Oh, yes, Jimmie the duck was here a little while ago," said the baker cat when Uncle Wiggily asked her about it. "He got out of school early, because he was a good boy, I guess, and he took his bag of jumbles and hurried out."

"Oh, jumbles, eh? Is that what he bought?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"Jimmie likes jumbles," spoke the baker cat. "They are all sorts of little cakes mixed up together; jumbles are, you know."

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily, "I know."

So, feeling glad that the duck boy had not forgotten what his mother told him, Uncle Wiggily hopped out of the baker shop and started back toward the Wibblewobble house. On the way he met Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy.

"Did you see Jimmie and his jumbles?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes," answered Sammie, "he's down the path playing marbles with Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow. Oh, Uncle Wiggily," went on Sammie, "are you ever coming to live with us again?"

"Maybe, some day," answered the bunny gentleman. "Just now I am visiting Lulu, Alice and Jimmie Wibblewobble. And I must hurry along after Jimmie to see that he does not forget and leave the bag of jumbles somewhere on the road."

Bidding Sammie goodby, Uncle Wiggily hopped on, and, pretty soon he came to a place where, as he could see, Jimmie had been playing marbles with the two puppy dog boys.

And there, surely enough, lying on the ground, was a bag.

"Well, I do declare!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Jimmie has gone and forgotten his jumbles after all! He was so busy playing marbles that he hurried off and forgot his cakes. It's a good thing I came after him. I'll slip them in the kitchen and he'll probably remember them just before supper and be anxious. It will teach him a lesson!"

So Uncle Wiggily picked up the bag he found on the ground, near where the animal boys had been playing marbles a short time before.

"I hope Jimmie's jumbles are nice and fresh," thought the rabbit gentleman as he heard something rattling and clinking inside the bag. "Some of them sound rather hard, but perhaps it is because of the chocolate and sugar frosting on them."

So carrying the bag he had found, Uncle Wiggily hopped on through the woods, thinking how nice the jumbles would taste for supper. Then, all of a sudden, the queer old Crozokus jumped out from behind a next year's Christmas tree.

"Stop! I have you now! What have you there?" asked the Crozokus, as he grabbed Uncle Wiggily by the ears. "I have you!"

"Yes, I see you have," sadly said the bunny gentleman. "But what are you going to do with me?"

"First tell me what you have in the bag," snapped the Crozokus.

"Jimmie's jumbles," answered Mr. Longears. "He bought them at the bakery and forgot them."

"Jimmie's jumbles; eh?" spoke the Crozokus, musing like and reflective. "Well, I'll tell you what I am going to do. First, I am going to eat Jimmie's jumbles and then I am going to have some of your sause. Now for the jumbles!"

Most impolitely he grabbed the bag away from Uncle Wiggily, and, without stopping to open it, the bad chap took a large and untidy bite from the outside. But, no sooner had he taken mochew, than he cried.

"Oh, wow! Oh, trolley cars! Oh, jitney balloons!"

"Why, what's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily, as the Crozokus dropped the bag and started to run.

"Matter? Matter!" howled the Crozokus. "Matter enough. I should say! You call those Jimmie's jumbles? Just look at them!"

Then, as the Crozokus ran away, Uncle Wiggily opened the bitten and torn bag and what do you think he saw? Why, Johnnie's marbles, of course.

The duck boy had picked up the bag of jumbles he had laid on the ground and flopped home with them, leaving some hard marbles behind, in another bag. And it was these Uncle Wiggily picked up, and it was marbles the Crozokus bit on. And it served him right, I'll say!

So everything came out all right, and Jimmie's jumbles were very good for supper, and the duck boy was glad the bunny brought home all the marbles the Crozokus did not chew. And if the bottle of mucilage doesn't try to crawl up the piano stool to get a free merry-go-round ride, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Lulu's lollypops.

JUBILEE'S PARDNER

by Judd Mortimer Lewis

Illustrations by Edwins

When I opened the window this morning and was letting Jubilee down by the hope in his teeth I could feel that it was a lot warmer and I knew the ice and snow was melting because a big icicle came off of the eaves where the hole is through them and almost speared me in the back of the neck, and it was sharp too. Everybody said my ears was looking too bad to let out in public and my mother sais she would cover them up with abhorrent cotton tomorra. I hope she don't. What is the use of freezing your ears and then keeping them covered up.

When the bunch came by this morning the Last Rag's of Tripe's eye was swole shut, so I did not paist him for telling the teacher that I had soaked him in it with a snow ball. We all snowballed on the way to school, and because one of my snowballs missed Peanuts and hit a man in a otto he got out of it and chased me all the way to school. I went right past the school and then he stopped, chasing me and I went around the block and come to school after he had went away. I am getting to be a pretty good shot with a snowball, I bet he thought I would run in the school and he would catch me.

My grandfather sais March come in like a lamb and would go out like a lion and when I usted my mother what he meant she said that when March comes in warm it goes out cold, and when it comes in cold it goes out warm. I am going to watch it and see if it does.

We all went out to our barn and took a look at Hopper's cripple leg. Because his father has always been taking him to hospitals and doctors to see if they could do anything to make it catch up with the other one, and Jonesy went to see him about it, and she said if it was her she would have it cut off and then she would wear a cork leg. I guess she likes to have legs cut off because she has been in the war and has got used to it. If it was mine I would wait till I found a cork big enough to make a leg out of before I let them do it. If it was mine I guess I would tell them "Go ahead and saw her off," but I am tuff and Hopper never was tough and I hope they don't do it. His father asted him if he wanted them to cut it off and he said he didn't. I should say not.

One of my snowballs missed Peanuts and hit a man in a otto he got out of it and chased me all the way to school.

My mother is mad at my ant yet because she did not let her take her fur. I mean the fur she wears. Ants do not have fur. Ants would not like to have fur, because if they did they could be killed and skun and be some use to somobody. I went to bed early and pulled Jubilee up. It is not very cold. I hope Hopper don't let them.

Meat —then and now

THE most peddler of the old days, who killed his own live stock and then sold the meat from the tail of a cart, is gone from our larger towns and cities. He was a pioneer and did good service but he couldn't keep up with his job. Crude methods had to give way to new ideas in sanitation and distribution.

Concentration of population drove the peddler and his wagon out and brought the modern packing industry and the neighborhood retailer in his place.

And the modern packing business means this:

That near the farms and ranches, the centers of live stock production, are packing plants that assemble and manufacture the most products you use.

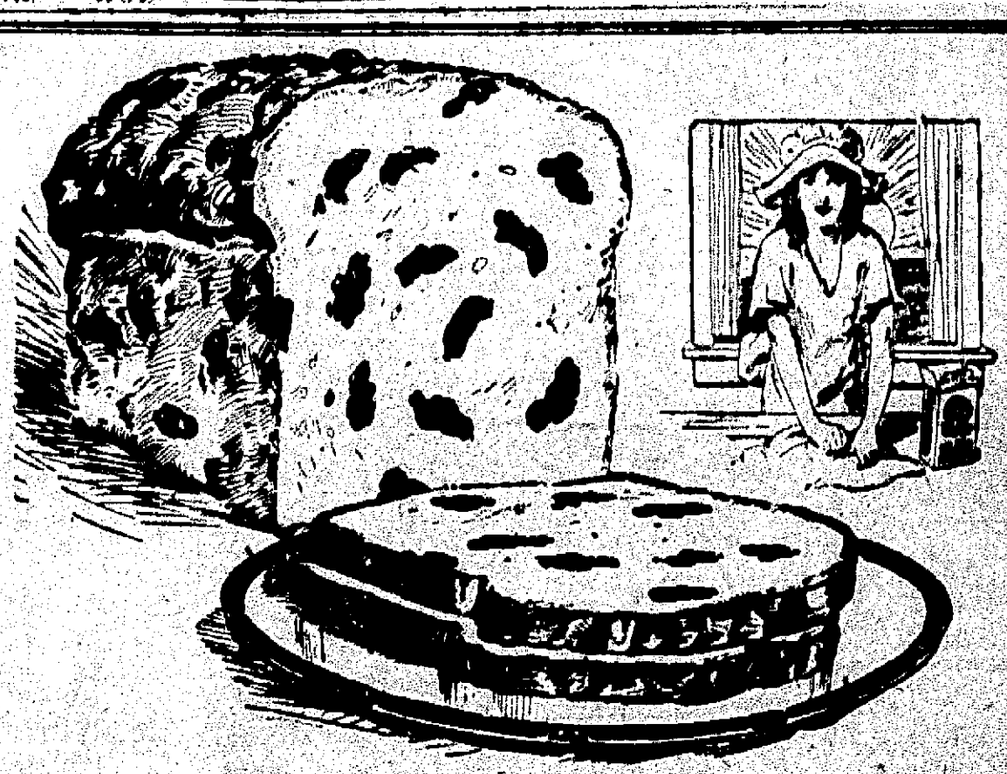
That swift and economy refrigerator cars carry your meat from these packing plants to every part of the country.

Dealers in towns and villages are supplied directly and regularly from these refrigerator cars.

And in cities the refrigerator car is unloaded into branch houses, chilled and sanitary, from which deliveries are made to your meat shop. And all the time the meat is kept so chilled that deterioration is prevented.

Swift & Company's plants and branches are co-ordinated, interchanging supply and supporting each other, when necessary, so that no section of the country may ever lack its daily meat.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.



Bread with Raisins is a Better Food

Forget, for a moment, the delicious flavor of raisin bread and think of its value as a food.

Raisins furnish 1560 units of energizing nutriment per pound, as well as natural iron which brings the rose tint to women's and children's cheeks.

The raisin's pure fruit sugar is in practically predigested form, so it is almost immediately assimilated. This fruit-food value added to the nourishment of wheat, forms an almost ideal food.

Send 'round the corner or telephone to your grocer or bake shop for a loaf of Sun-Maid Raisin Bread or bake a loaf at home according to the recipe at the right.

The raisin flavor permeates the bread. Try the bread plain, with or without butter. Learn what delicious toast it makes. Serve at least twice a week to break the monotony of plain bread.

Every first-class baker sells Sun-Maid Raisin Bread

SUN-MAID RAISINS

Use Sun-Maid Raisins in all your cooking, for they are the finest grown. Made from seedless, juicy, thin-skinned California table grapes.

Take It In Time!

DO you know that by far the larger number of the common ailments of women are not surgical ones; that is they are not caused by any serious displacement, tumor, growth, or other marked change?

DO you know that these common ailments produce symptoms that are very much like those caused by the more serious surgical conditions?

DO you know that many women and young girls suffer needlessly from such ailments? More than that, they endanger their health by allowing their ailments to continue and develop into something serious.

If treated early, that is, within a reasonable time after the first warning symptoms appear, serious conditions may often be averted. Therefore, at the first appearance of such symptoms as periodic pains, irregularities, irritability and nervousness, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken. It is prepared with accuracy and cleanliness from medicinal plants. It contains no narcotics nor poisonous drugs, and can be taken with perfect safety.

The Vegetable Compound acts on the conditions which bring about these symptoms in a gentle and efficient manner. The persistent use of it shows itself in the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms. In a word, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound acts as a natural restorative, relieving the present distress and preventing more serious trouble.

MA-A-A-A! LAMB COMES IN WITH MARCH TODAY

Roaring Lion Must Be Back in the Jungles.

Oh, boy!

Did you see that 'lil ol' lamb go gamboling down the street this morning? Didja—say, didja?

There never was a more welcome sight in Marion than that frolicking lamb today!

Everybody gawked in admiration, and felt good all day over the good-for-what-ails-you picture.

Therefore, the gentle lamb—and the absence of the roaring lion. If there is such an animale as the roaring lion in these parts right now "he sure is keepin' hisself back in the jungles."

There is no use saying anything to the contrary—that weather guy has been certainly considerate of Marionites.

A special meeting of the Catholic Ladies of Columbia and members of the degree team, will be held Wednesday night in the Knights of Columbus hall where arrangements will be made for the Knights of Columbus banquet next Sunday.

Chautauqua Pavilion, Which Seats 2,200, an Ideal Place for Billy Sunday Revival.

A committee is to go to Cincinnati and wait on Mr. Sunday and invite him to come here for a fall campaign. Should he accept the invitation it is the intention to hold the meetings in the Garfield park pavilion, which has a seating capacity of 2,200. Mr. Sunday is to open a series of meetings in Cincinnati next Sunday.

In preparation for Mr. Sunday's possible acceptance a committee also has been appointed to arrange for housing facilities for the evangelist and his party.
